

SWSC Forum Guidelines

We take pride in keeping our forums respectful, pleasant, and enjoyable for members of all ages. Please read the following guidelines before posting.

Purpose

The purpose of our forums is to discuss issues related to Silver Wing Sailing Club, and the sport of sailing in general. Please keep discussions friendly and within the topic of the club and sailing.

Language and Trolling

Our club is family friendly. There may be young users and vulgar language is not allowed. This constitutes the use of any kind of offensive, discriminatory, or otherwise inappropriate material deemed unsafe for younger members. Do not post provocative, outrageous, or pointless messages only to get a response from others, i.e. "trolling". All posts are read by our administrators. Questionable content or inappropriate language will be edited or removed for further investigation, and users will be warned. Repeat violators will be permanently banned.

Self-Promotion is Spam

Any post that is considered advertising for one's self-interests, fits under this subject. Questionable content will be edited or removed for further investigation. Repeat violators who post promotional content will be permanently banned.

Site Administrators Have the Final Word

If you have a problem or a complaint, please direct it to a committee member. The site administrators will have the final word. If you have any questions, please get in touch with a committee member through the contact form. Above all, remember to have fun!
